Snowy Range Rotating Sculpture Program

The artists selected through the Snowy Range Rotating Sculpture Program will be installing their artwork in Laramie this spring. A community celebration will be hosted by LPAC in the summer of 2021, if health requirements allow.

East Side Sculpture Pad

Taking Flight, Clifton Cox

Installation Date: Friday, March 12, 2021 @ 10 AM

While Clifton is in town, March 11 and 12, he will be meeting with the University of Wyoming's sculpture students, getting a tour of Downtown Laramie, and filming a video that asks community members to submit what they think "Taking Flight" represents, to build a community-informed artwork meaning.

West Side Sculpture Pad

Exhaling Dissolution, Sarah Deppe

Installation Date: Second week of April 2021 (exact date TBD due to equipment availability)

LPAC and Sarah are working with construction crews at the University of Wyoming to secure the necessary equipment for installation.
