

Wyoming Highway Patrol Association WARNING TO ADVERTISERS

Various groups are calling on businesses throughout the state falsely claiming to be or to represent the Wyoming Highway Patrol Association. It is disturbing to know of these misrepresentations because many businesses have given their financial support to these organizations.

The Wyoming Highway Patrol Association is made up entirely of uniformed and retired troopers. Our goals, objectives, and continued success have been possible only through the generosity and trust extended by our advertisers during the past years.

Our association raises funds ONLY through, The Wyoming Trooper magazine. While there may be other legitimate programs that are requesting your support, be advised that NONE are affiliated in any way with the Wyoming Highway Patrol Association. In order to combat this increasing problem, we have imprinted all correspondence with our logo. Therefore, if you have any suspicion or doubt as to the legitimacy of the person or organization soliciting your support, please check the logo. Also we have implemented the Business Identification Cards (BIC) that will be your individual businesses code. Ask the caller to reveal your BIC code.

We appreciate your continued support, and are doing everything possible to ensure that your generosity and goodwill are not abused.

BEFORE YOU BUY, VERIFY

To help you determine if you are dealing with the Wyoming Highway Patrol Association follow this easy verification guide: We have created a Business Identity Code (BIC) that will be on your business receipt you receive from us. You can refer to this code at any time we call, to make sure you are dealing with the Wyoming Highway Patrol Association and not some other group. As far as receiving advertisement copy from you, you can either email something to us: whpatroopermag@q.com or mail a business card to us in the return envelope we provide to you. If we don't receive anything from your business, we will create a "generic type" ad for you. Remember to VERIFY!!

✓ Look for Our logo.

Checks are made payable to the Wyoming Highway Patrol Association or the Wyoming Trooper Magazine
